Opening

Mark Vitel got a little overly excited about the arrival of this year's yearbook.

Food, friends, and fun... What more could a couple of Judson women want?

Our Place In Time. . .

"Everything that happens in this world happens at the time God chooses. He sets the time for birth and the time for death, the time for planting and the time for pulling up, the time for killing and the time for healing, the time for tearing down and the time for building. He sets the time for sorrow and the time for joy, the time for mourning and the time for dancing," Ecc. 3:1-4.

This book captures our place and time. It was a time and place like no other. We've all learned many lessons through our laughter and tears. We can claim ownership to an era that brought great celebration as well as extreme turmoil.

▲ Tom Ensign shows that Admission counselors make great actors in the annual air band contest.

▲ Lance Stephenson, Brian Rugg, and Chris Kinner show Holy Soldier the finer points of pickin' 'n' a grinnin'.

◀ Sue Carlson gave Dan Miles more than he could chew when playing "open the hanger".

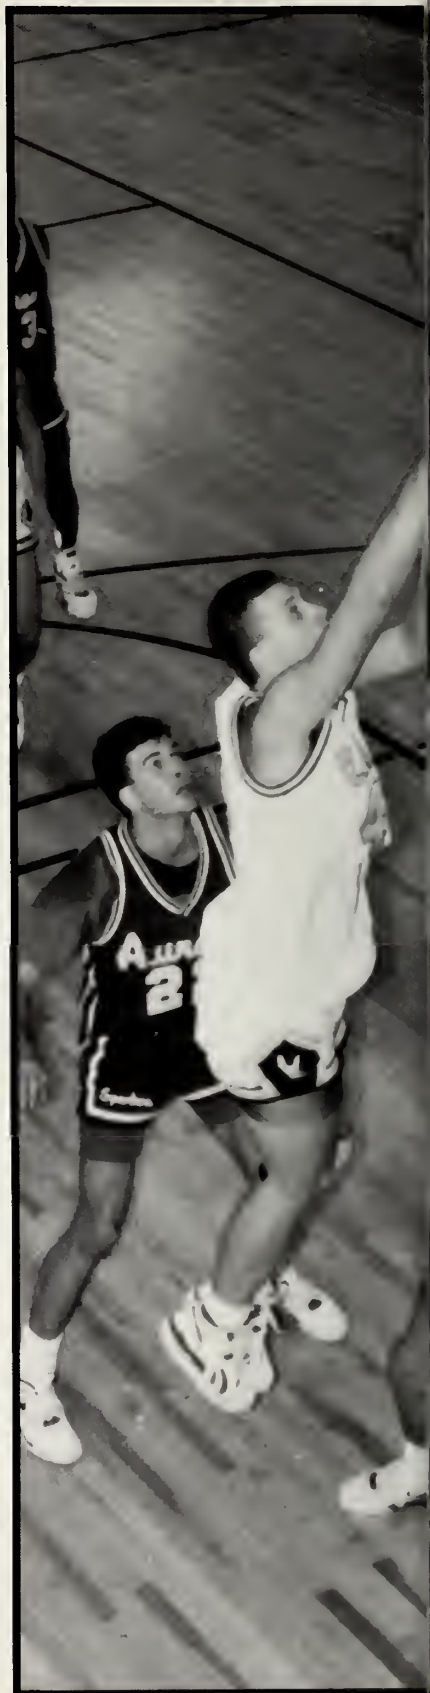

◀ Bill Hayes and Dale Gregory waged a battle of the minds (mouths) at Kangaroo Court.

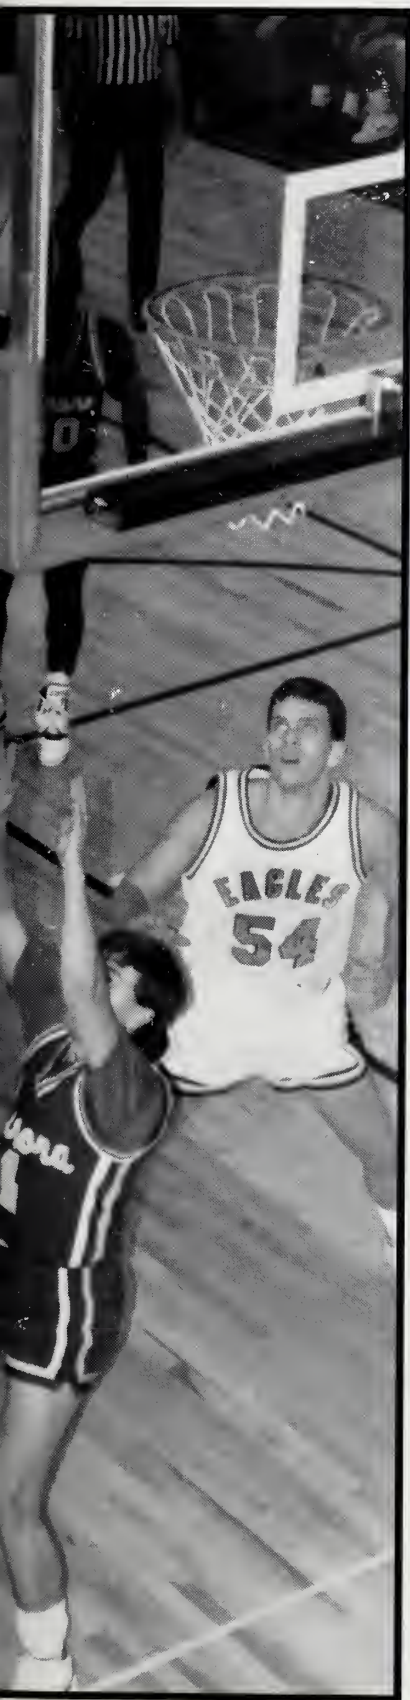

► Intramural bowling became rapidly unpopular after quiet hours on the balconies of Volkman.

▼ Chris Heinig kept the boys happy at various social activities with service and a smile.

► The high flying Eagle basketball teams had successful first seasons in the new Fitness Center.

The Judson Experience

This is our place and time within the 'Judson experience'. It was an experience of searching and enjoying life. It was going past 'comfortable' by stretching to grow and heighten our education through learning.

This was a place where we had room to fail and stumble daily with the security of support from those around us. Many of the best friendships were started in times of need. These relationships will continue to be an encouragement to us for many years after our collegiate life.

This was a time that provided a catalyst that enabled us to start attaining what we as individuals were and are still striving for. Change is uncomfortable but it is only by change that we can hope to improve ourselves and our situation.

▲ Is this a soup line or the food service's best attempt at a late-summer picnic?

Timeless Friendships

As Judson students, this place of ours has been a time to cultivate a kindredship whose roots run deep. It has been a time and place to forge new relationships and build on old ones. From the moment the seed of friendship was planted until the time you reaped the fruits of that bond, you knew something was special.

We have laughed together, listened to each other, cried with one another, and loved socializing together. The many diverse special moments we've shared have contributed to friendships that will last.

▲ Christy Hallbeck is always glad to help Mindi Hodge stay on her strict popcorn diet.

◀ Rob McManus gets a phone call from the Registrar's office informing him that tuition is up, his aid is down, and he won't be able to graduate without another gym class.

▼ Yan and Ling Song "coming to America".

◀ Even though Milli Vanilli lost their recording contract, Judson welcomed them to do a number on campus.

▲ Lynn Hughes and Julianne Stuber became a little dizzy on the choir's fall Hometown Tour.

► "Arrrrrrrgh! That #@/*! Lucy pulled the ball away again!"

► John "call me Jack" Horn randomly takes his frustrations out in unsuspecting fast-food chain stores.

Never Fading Memories

Our place and time was one that gave opportunities for growth, education, friendship, and of course the "priceless" Judson Experience.

All things come to an end. The time has come for some of us to leave

Judson and be part of another place and time. Time will move us on to other opportunities, but our memories of this year will never fade away. Through it all we have come, and left our marks...for this was our place in time.

▲ Yearbook copy editor Dave Syver-son is happy about Judson's "2 girls for every boy" enrollment ratio.

Seniors

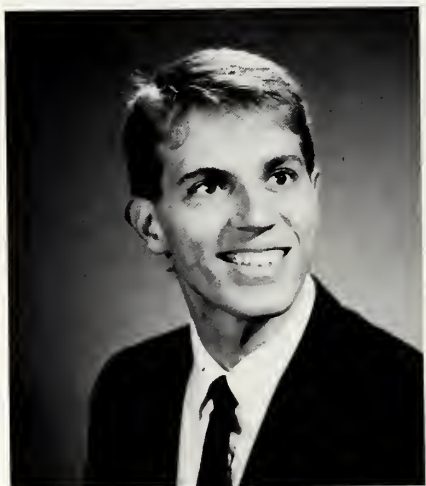

▲ Mighty White mix-master Lou busts a smokin' grove!

◀ Julianne Steuber helps Rob McManus work on some of his choreography.

▲ After four years at Judson we finally learned the words to our Alma Mater... "Oh Sweet Wonder".

▲ The Senior class officers, Cory Armstrong, Bill Heinig (president), Colleen Newell, and Tamara Lokteff, went to any heights for their class.

► Shari Filkins sings her last song as a Judson student.

◄ Senior class president, Bill Heinig, is on the receiving end of a T.P. job for a change.

▼ Joe Flowers thanked many people who supported him throughout his extended college career in senior chapel.

◄ Jennifer Johnson gave a meaningful and applicable testimony that we all could take to heart.

▲ Lou, Matt, Rob, and Ken performed a most triumphant version of Judson's musical "remember whens".

Senior Candids

► Lou never lost "That lovin' feeling" when it came to these three Judson babes.

▲ The senior choir members hung loose at Disneyland.

◀ Jack "the Ripper" Horn and Shawn "Brutus" Bohlin roamed about during fun week seeking freshmen to devour.

▼ "If one more person asks me what I am going to do after I graduate. . ."

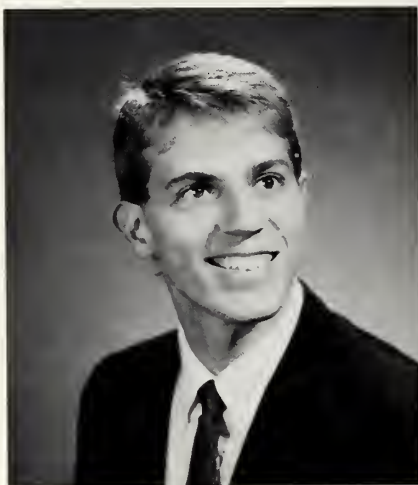

▲ Fine Art majors today, camel jockeys tomorrow.

◀ Senior Dan Miles reaches for the stars. . .too bad it's still daylight.

Who's

Who

Jim Aalfs

"Not that I already obtained all this, or have already been made perfect, but I press on to take hold of that for which Christ Jesus took hold of me" Phil. 3:12.

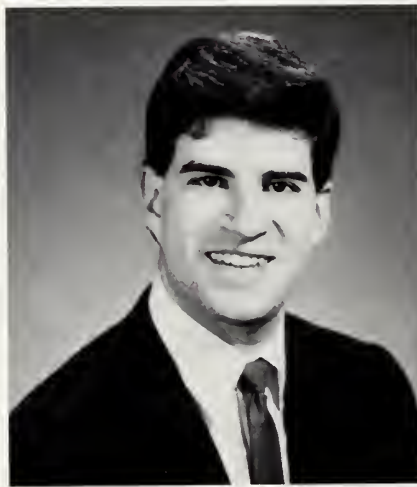

LeAnn Atkinson

"I feel very blessed by friends I have come to know here who have shared laughter and tears, beginnings and endings." Psalms 91.

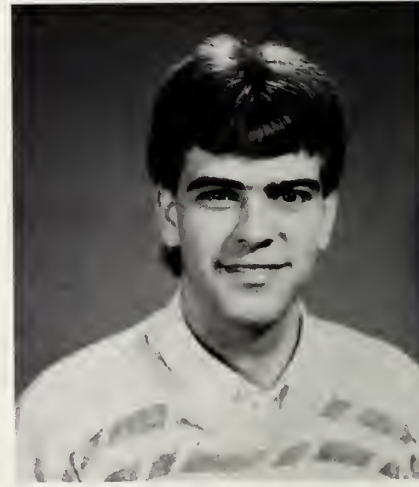

Matthew Baer

"You can't do something to save all the world's problems, but you can do something (re: that's starfish anecdote)."

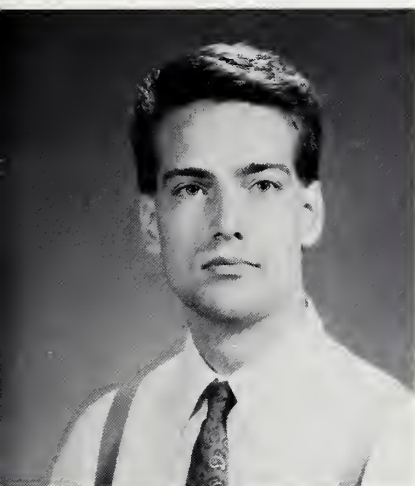

Louis DiGrazia

"Give it a try, you never know."

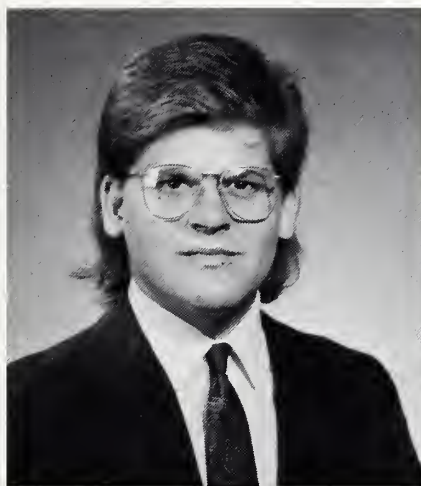

Kenneth Haak

"For this God is our God forever and ever. He will be our guide even to the end" Psalms 48:14.

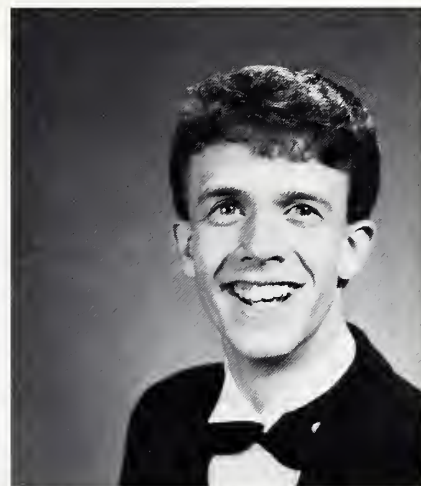

William Heinig

"Life itself is a race, marked by a start, and a finish. It is what we learn during the race, and how we apply it that determines whether our participation has had value." — Dr. Porsche

John Horn

"It's not how many times you fall down. . .It's how many times you get up."

Robert McManus

"Years ago my mother told me, (to make it in this life), you must be oh so smart, or oh so pleasant. . .I recommend pleasant. You may quote me." -Jimmy Stewart from the movie "Harvey".

Jane Miller

"One of the hardest lessons I've had to learn concerns patience. Psalms 27:14 says 'Wait upon the Lord, be strong and take heart and wait for the Lord'. God will provide His strength, but we must exercise the patience to receive it."

Julie Miller

"The key to getting the most out of my four years is getting involved. Through handbells, choir, and RA, I've been able to have a lot of fun, and grow in learning how to better serve others and God."

Sondra Perry

"No I am not a theatre major!"

► Wendy Westlund, along with the rest of the seniors, "just did it" after 122 credit hours.

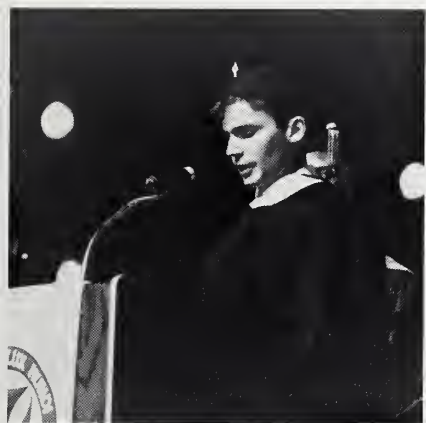

▲ Every hairdo's nightmare is the dreaded graduation cap.

► Debbie did not just flash a smile on graduation day.

▼ Shawn Finley, a visual arts major, graduates at the top of his class.

Graduation

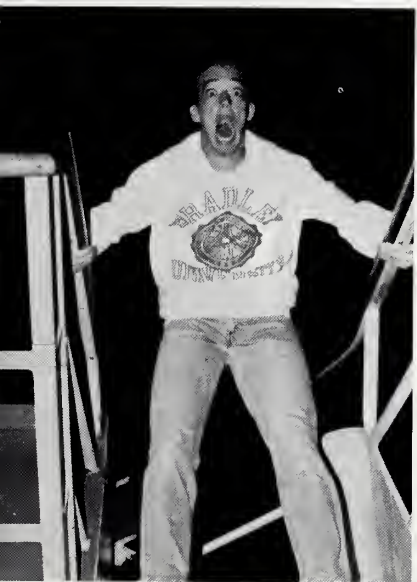

▲ "How much longer will this program go on for?"

▲ Suddenly Requel Luce realizes she is about to enter into the "real world".

Activities

▲ Jamey Sintz almost went overboard with the dessert on the boat cruise.

◀ A groovy 60's flashback as modeled by Jim Cook and Chris Heinig for the Homecoming Variety Show.

▲ Judson theatre majors are just one big happy family!

► Nang is the only student who can get away with shooting professors.

▲ Mrs. Myhrman gets straight to the point with Ace Tilson.

▲ "Just sign on the dotted line, trust us..."

Day One

A scary first week at college was made just a little bit easier this year with a very successful Orientation Week. Activities planned for the freshmen allowed them to get to know each other and the school better. However, little could be done to prepare them for the traumatic experience of Registration Day. Except for a few emotional scars, Registration went relatively smooth with the entire process being housed in the Fitness Center.

▲ Prof. Cassells tells Steve Dutcher to stop thinking of celestial bodies and get his mind on registering for one of his classes.

◀ Is this the only incentive for joining choir?

Fabulous Fun Week

Fun Week made for a good time for all involved, except for possibly the Freshmen who had instilled in their hearts the terror of J-Squad. J-Squad, the upperclassmen's special forces unit, is known for inflicting pain and grief on underclassmen with surprisingly little bodily harm. Kangaroo Court happened to be in session during Fun Week and was the final means to bring the alleged delinquents to justice. The judge (Angel of Death) weighed carefully the accusations and defenses and proceeded to order the punishments for those found guilty.

▲ Guilty freshmen of the female persuasion tolerated their punishment of having to kiss Matt Baer, or is Matt being punished?

▲ The 1990 J-Squad truly was every freshmen's nightmare. These are the kind of people your youth pastor failed with.

► I won't mention any Judson girl jokes. . . I won't. -Editor.

▼ Rough Rider Karin Anderson makes her entrance into Herrick Chapel.

◀ This is how the freshmen stacked up against the pressures of collegiate life.

▲ Laura Amsler, having nothing to smile about, could foresee the tribulation of Kangaroo Court.

Cruise O' Love

The hormones were running high as scamming Judsonites sailed their way across Lake Michigan on the annual Boat Cruise. Freshmen paired off as Upperclassmen did the official couple count. . .the final figure was sixty three. The boat was bigger this year, but that wasn't much comfort to those feeling just a little sick from the choppy waves. The usual Baker's Square pie was well received as some began the short journey to the infamous "Freshman 15". The Upperclassmen who had given up long ago indulged in the irresistible delicacies. The night ended with friends getting reacquainted and new friends made. Who says the "Love Boat" is only on TV?

▲ Luscious Lou, the original leather-cladded stallion, obviously has great deck-hands.

► Bright lights, big city as seen from the decks of the love boat.

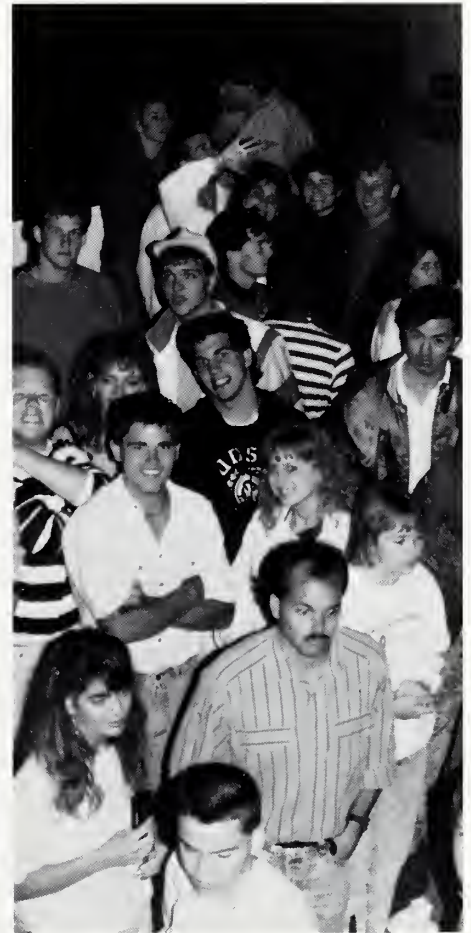

◀ Kristy Wenberg, Jamey Sintz, and Jack Horn do their best impersonations of a windsock.

◀ The Clossmans set the pace for the evening by sharing a romantic moment.

▼ Flirts, scammers and game players alike had a fruitful evening.

Homecoming Week

Homecoming this year was packed with fun filled activities that included the "Enchantment Under the Sea" dinner held at the Holiday Inn. The theme was enhanced by real fish decorations (in bowls of course) and paper sea shells. Despite a less-than chapel quality piano, David Meece's sold-out-concert was a huge crowd pleaser with his inspirational music and usual wit.

Following the concert, many students participated in an "unofficial off-campus function". Thanks to a few very dedicated physical fitness enthusiasts, a good time was had by all!

▲ Ken and Chips version of "The Lion Sleeps tonight" looks more like "The Monster Mash".

► The Refreshment Committee lived up to their name by entertaining everyone who saw their performance.

▲ This is an example of the lame leading the blind.

◀ The Juniors take their best shot at winning the class competition.

The Court

What would Homecoming Week be without a Homecoming Court? I guess we'll never know!

Earning the honor of representing their respective classes on the Homecoming Court this year were Freshmen Lisa Heinig and Aaron Meares, Sophomores Melissa Anderson and Mark Vitel, Juniors Carla Campbell and Bill Hayes. Holly Flynn was crowned Homecoming Queen and Matt Jewel was named King.

Preceding the announcement of the court was a first-rate variety show featuring some of Judson's finest talent, from lip syncs to a fashion show spanning the decades. Delvis and the Debonairs were back for a return appearance at Judson and recieved a warm welcome.

Of course, we all were entertained by Dr. Besancon and his famous Rainbow Division stories from World War II. And you thought World Civ. was over.

▲ The 1990 Homecoming Court featured a four-year royalty sweep by Holly Flynn. She was escorted by Matt Jewel, the main man of Volkman Hall.

► "Pretty Woman" Lisa Blansit and Dale "call me Roy" Gregory won the lip-sync contest.

◀ Biff busts a string playing a mean air guitar while Mark Vitel rushes the stage.

▼ Crowd favorites, Mark Poetz and Alan Boelter, lip sync even better than Milli Vanilli ever did.

▲ Students participating in the 2nd Annual Reggae/Tie-Dye Bash added a splash of color to campus.

Founder's Day

Founder's Day was the Administration's moment to shine and to show how the school has been growing. Starting the activities off with a special chapel service, President Weber presented Wilber Smith with an honorary degree for his participation in civic and church organizations. Amos Barton told the story of the founding of Judson and God's faithfulness to the school. The internationally known "father of aerobics", Dr. Kenneth Cooper, spoke on the relationship between physical and spiritual well-being. The highlight of the day came at the ribbon cutting and dedication of the new Linder Fitness Center. Soon after, Dr. Cooper spoke again during the banquet along with a number of students showing their appreciation for the facility.

▲ Dr. Cooper stresses the importance of physical as well as spiritual well-being.

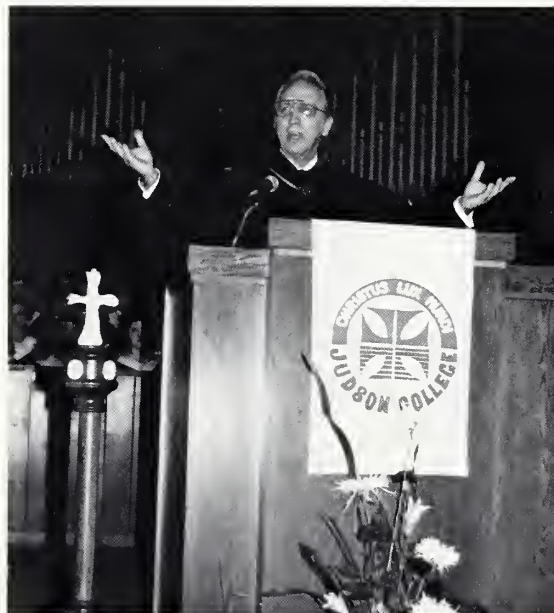

► Honorary Degree recipient Wilber Smith, is congratulated by President Weber.

◀ The newest addition to Judson's campus, the Robert D. Lindner Fitness Center, was dedicated on Founder's Day.

▼ Even with an aching back President Weber was able to preach up a storm.

◀ Bob Lindner officially opens the building with the traditional ribbon cutting.

▲ Chairman of the Board, Ralph Beaty, was this year's winner of the Golden Eagle Award.

Fall Play

The "Skin of Our Teeth" by Thornton Wilder won the hearts of the campus with the witty antics of the cast and heartfelt message of the story. "Skin", as it was eventually nicknamed, told a tale of the birth of man and his struggle to survive and thrive in a world where good and evil exist side by side. The Senior students had fond memories of this author, for Judson produced "Our Town", another Wilder play, exactly four years past.

▲ By the skin of their teeth, these students became actors for the production of the fall play.

► Doc Ryder rates his performance on a scale from one to ten.

◀ Stacey Quick breaks the bad news of the actor's guild going on strike.

◀ This is probably not what you have in mind when you dream of a genie.

▲ Is this a dramatic pause, or is Chip stumped for his line?

▲ At times the cast resembled a dysfunctional family.

► "Hey! Hey!! Unto you a child is born!!!!"

▼ These three act like good little girls on stage and off.

► Even Santa's wish came true at the Hanging of the Greens.

Christmas by Candlelight

The "Best Christmas Pageant Ever" was just that! This yuletide production was the featured presentation at the annual Christmas by Candlelight Dinner in December. Senior Rob McManus directed Judson staff Mr. and Mrs. Vitel in their Judson stage debut. This charming story told of how one woman turns a fiasco of a church Christmas pageant around into a meaningful time for a handful of neighborhood hooligans who have never experienced the love of the Christ child.

▲ Lynn Hughes debates whether to save the day or run for her life.

▼ Many year's of practice and refinement were evident in Matt Baer's brilliant senior recital.

▲ Rob McManus (center) is seen here with the cast and crew from his senior acting project, "Master Harold".

► After a well-accepted run at Judson, Rob entered his production into competition. With the guidance of Dr. Lee Krähenbühl, Rob came away with a victory.

Earning your B.F.A. at Judson

Before any FA major can graduate from Judson, he/she must satisfactorily complete a senior project in their respective fields. Visual Art majors must display the best work in several media areas from their collegiate career. The catch phrase for one senior's show, for example, was, "What would you do with 4 years and $50,000.?"

Theatre majors are required to have a major part in a dramatic production. This would include starring, directing, producing, or any combination of these for completion of their senior project.

Music majors have slightly different requirements in that they must have a junior and a senior recital. The different concentrations are voice, piano, and organ performance.

Whether it be an art, theatre, or music major, the Fine Arts Division can truly be proud of the talents it has cultivated over the years along with those who represent it.

▲ Bill and Matt greatly appreciated all the work that went into their reception by the best-looking women on campus.

► Acting isn't all hard work as demonstrated by Dawn Wilkie and Teresa Greiner playing school.

► Laura Amsler should try-out for the role of Catwoman in the sequel to "Batman" judged by her convincing performance.

▼ A bunch of barnyard animals stole the show from Greg (call me Biff...why?) Schacher.

Spring Play

Who would have ever thought of a musical coming to Judson employing such characters as pigs, goats, sheep, and cows? But that's just what happened in the spring semester of '91. "Animal Farm", a socially conscious fairy tale by George Orwell, told the story of Communism in the U.S.S.R. This creative and imaginative musical displayed the many talents of our drama department. By the end of the play the audience knew one thing for sure. . .these animals weren't just 'horsin' around'.

▲ Prof. Stotyn (center) will be remembered for his rousing version of "Beasts of England."

◀ This was probably the only Judson production where you could get away with alot of horseplay and acting like a pig.

► Delvis, the "Big Bopper" himself, is fast becoming a well-loved Judson variety show tradition.

▼ Mrs. Ed just seemed to do everything better than Dr. Ed in their duet.

▲ We all know that Janet Jackson can dance well. . .but would she dance on campus, in the chapel? Well. . .yes!

► Homeboy Doug Sanders and preacher boy Bill Hayes M.C.ed the evening's events.

Spring Variety Show

The second annual Variety Show proved to be a great success and definitely lived up to the description of "variety". The acts included a couple of creative lip-syncs, various faculty numbers, and two live bands. "Boys with Bad Hair" gave us their remixes of tunes by U2 and The Choir while "Delvis and the Debonairs" took us down memory lane with 'golden oldies'. The crowd sung along to the sounds of "Teenager in Love", "Chantilly Lace", and "Greased Lightning". The Variety Show not only was a good way to spend a Friday night, but benefited the soccer team's mission trip to the Phillipines as well.

▲ Mike Augsburger and Ken Haak thought they were 2/3 of God in a truly "champion" skit from Carmen.

◀ Matt Barnes asked this mysterious transfer student from Texas for her hand in marriage. Kelly's answer was...

► Miriam Mather and Karin Anderson before that first cup of coffee in the morning. . . or scenes from the haunted house.

▼ Dave, Kathy and Rob enjoyed hanging out over Great America.

▲ Strange things happened in Wilson Dorm as Club Joe became an overnight success.

Social Activities

This past year has been a most triumphant year of social activities. Great America made for a good time in October and the Halloween Party was a perfect way to say "hi" to autumn. Club Joe offered

Wilson residents a welcome relief from final exam's stress, but the one event that stole the year was the unofficial social gathering after Homecoming. A good time was had by all.

◀ Seniors know the importance of keeping in shape with aerobic activity and how to have fun doing it.

▲ The freshmen class came to the end of their rope during class competitions.

► There was never a dull moment on campus spring semester . . . not as long as there were intense latenight chess matches to observe.

▼ "I won! I won! I won!", exclaims Jennifer Johnson as she takes the win and the sportsmanship award.

▲ The Sadie Hawkins sisters themselves, Kristy and Cathy, enjoyed the event of their namesake.

► Some mystery night activities are losers. This was a winning mystery night for us as well as the Cubs.

More Social Activities

The Social Activities committee, headed by Carla Campbell, has managed to keep Judsonites on their toes with an abundance of activities taking place on campus and off. They usually met once a week throughout the year to plan and schedule events weeks in advance. Many a member of this group gave of their free time so that we would have something to do with ours. Their involvement was more than just organizing several holiday celebrations. By providing numerous mysterious nights along with many much-needed study breaks, this committee has done a fabulous job of keeping us all "socially active".

▲ If there are no social activities to be found, make one of your own. Cowabunga dude!

◀ What better activity than to eat pizza? ... and eat pizza in large quantities we did.

Organizations

▲ Don't tell Darren Wooding that his face rings a bell because he's likely to bring yours if he hears that old joke again.

▲ Guess who was our Student Senate president this year? Lord help us. . .

▲ Saturday Morning Club is a vital community outreach tool for Judson students.

Student Senate & Social Act.

▲ Student Senate does more than cut in front of everyone in the lunchline on Tuesdays. Their main job is to figure out how to spend your money.

◀ Santa and the socially active elves; coming to a party near you.

▼ Everyone had something to smile about at the convincingly scary Haunted House.

▲ The Social Activity Committee on one of their better nights.

◀ A lit Christmas tree outside of the Commons made it seem more like winter, even with no snow on the ground.

▲ A future Chicago Bull is able to dunk like the big boys with a little help from his friends.

▲ Saturday Morning Club is a good opportunity for students to make a difference in the lives of kids in the surrounding community.

► "Miles of smiles" can usually be found in the upper commons on Saturday mornings.

Saturday Morning Club

▲ Lasting freindships are made during a few special moments at the "club".

◀ Amy Parker extends her heart on Saturday mornings.

Committees Etc. . .

▲ The Academic Life Committee wrapped-up their year with a night on the town.

► The Circle K organization is seen here under the leadership of Prof. Erikson.

◀ The Youth Conference Committee, which is in charge of organizing a high school retreat on campus, was lead by Julie Fulkerson.

▲ The Pro-life Committee this year consisted of Val Perera, Dawn Bielski, and Dennis Reed.

◀ The Missions Committee looked forward to every meeting and Kathy Gribbin's cookies.

► The Nowhere Near Broadway club brought back the era of the coffe house to campus this year. For a couple of nights every week they provided students with a place to study, socialize, relax and to be entertained by resident talent.

► The Communications Committee had their hands full in the beginning of the year but was happy to have everything turn out fine.

▲ The college newspaper, The Observer, was edited by Diane Meier (rear, right) for another good year of journalism.

► One committee member who attended just about every meeting in Faculty Apt. #3 was 'Kitty'. He enjoyed performing acrobatic tricks nightly.

■ More Committees...

▲ WJUD (am 640) lost the hum this year and gained a bit more listeners.

◀ You can thank these very people for what you are velwing right now. The 1991 Lantern was edited by Bill Heinig (rear, center). Please send checks to him c/o...

► Disneyland was a big attraction for the choir on their (I wish they all could be) California Tour(s) over spring break.

▼ Bill Heinig tries to imitate Samson in the Sequoia National Forest in hopes of scaring up a few Delilahs.

▲ The choir does a home concert in Herrik Chapel.

► "Oh. . .sloppy joes again. . .my favorite. . .", exclaims Jodi Brown.

The Collge Choir

▲ The 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994 Judson College Choir...according to their literature at least.

◄ The choir's tour buses weren't quite as crowded as this shot may suggest.

Choir Tours

▲ This is the only time the choir stood still during their day at Disneyland.

► "Hey, don't worry. You guys take the plane back to Illinois and we'll catch up with you later."

◀ Lynn Hughes enjoyed getting some major lip on tour in Ohio.

▼ A little known fact is that along with Annette and Frankie, Dr. Ed was one of the original Three Mousketeers.

▲ Everyone boarded the Good ol' Gospel Ship for the Hometown Tour to southern Michigan and north-central Ohio.

Handbells

▲ ▲ There's a definite character trait similarity between certain Handbell Choir members here.

◀ Once again the Handbells participated in a fund-raising ring-a-thon this year.

▼ The ever-spunky Mrs. Ed appears to be all spunked out here on the tour bus seats.

◀ Jennifer Meadows attempts to adjust the reception on her seatmate's headphones.

▲ The 1991 Judson Handbell Choir under the leadership of Mrs. Alice Thompson (right).

Concerts and Concert Committee

▲▲ Holy Soldier christened the Fitness Center with the first concert ever there. Sue Carlson, the Concert Committee chairperson, was responsible for all the concerts on campus this year.

► The Choir celebrated Harvest Productions' 10th. Anniversary of concert promotions in the Chicago area.

◀ Perhaps the best concert on campus yet was performed by the Allies for an enthusiastic Youth Conference crowd.

▼ One Bad Pig had one 'bad' concert (depending how you look at it). One wonders how many people got Swine Flu at the concert?

◀ Jamie Ballew got Kim Hill's phone number after the concert. . .not.

▲ The chapel still manages to get a good rocking once in a while thanks to Sue and her friends at Harvest.

Reach out Teams

▲ Servant '90 did a home concert during Orientation week for new and old students alike.

► Mirror Image enjoys getting a little air time. OK, so it's not radio air time but they'll take what they can get.

◀ The guys of Servant '90 bustin' the moves out for a home concert.

▼ Just hangin' out somewhere in the Midwest on summer tour.

▲ Servant '90 on stage and on spiritual fire reached many high school audiences throughout their travels.

◀ The '90 Christmas Reachout Team (more or less) blended very well.

► The weekly chapels never lacked in music quantity or quality.

► Vicki Scambler and Irene Schulz perform a moving duet in chapel.

Chapels and Chapel Committee

▲ The 1990-91 Chapel Committee.

▼ New students were able to locate the R.A.s easily because of their nifty T-shirts. Probably all of the check-in forms gave them away also.

Housing Staff

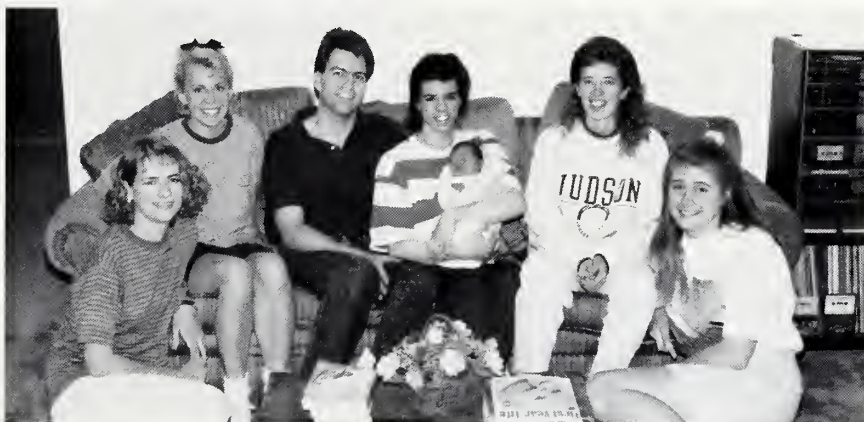

▲ The 1991 Volkman Hall Housing Staff says good-bye to the Wallis' and their last year as houseparents.

▲ Christmas was good for all of the houseparents and the housing directors. They pretty much got what they wanted.

▲ The Ohio Hall Housing Staff is all smiles for their newest addition, Christian.

◀ Every night the Wilson Housing Staff gathers around their donated organ and sings a few hymns before tucking everyone safely in bed (who writes these?).

► The brave explorers as seen exiting an underground water channel known as Hezekiah's Tunnel. Alice's baptism was enjoyed by all.

▼ Dr. Bob enjoyed some kosher 'Big Apple' pizza in New Jerusalem.

▲ "Another Institute of Holyland Studies classroom" is visited on site.

► The entire group was stoned in Dyahrrea while taking a shortcut through a Palestinian neighborhood.

'91 Spring Post Term Israel Trip

◀ American pilgrims, Dr. Bob, Scott Bartels, and Jeff Bewley, make a personal visit to the Wailing Wall.

► Dave Anderson was a classic example of severe culture clash while befriending these two Israeli soldiers.

▼ You may not recognize this person but you probably already know this Beddowian shepherdess.

▲ Dr. Bob led an intimate baptism service in the Jordan River.

► Michelle Barret and Alice (m.) Keitzman tried to catch up on their sleep after some long nights of meeting new people.

▲ Although the group waded in the Med. Sea, snorkeled in the Red Sea, and swam in the Sea of Galilee, the Dead Sea proved to be the most unique.

▲ It was very sobering to think that this small country of Israel is where everything started and where everything will end. The group visited where Christ was born (The Church of the Nativity), places where He taught, where he died and rose again (The Church of the Holy Sepulcher), and saw the plains of Armageddon where The Lord of Hosts will return.

Faculty

▲ Prof. McLane breathes life into several math related subjects in his classroom.

◄ Dr. Besancon enjoyed telling us war stories of when he was trapesing around Europe in the Rainbow Brigade.

▲ Prof. Del R. Loven traveled to the Heartland of America this year to pay his respects to a revolutionary actor.

► Dr. Clossman takes in a soccer game on a beautiful fall afternoon.

Faculty Candid

◀ Dale Gregory thanks Dr. Paul Satre for inspiring him to take organ lessons.

▲ Ed Gilbreath gets some friendly advice from CA Prof. Hargis.

► A long time member of the athletic staff, "Doc" Ryder is a valuable asset to have on our bench.

▲ Registration day is busy for students and faculty alike.

◀ What did Prof. Hsieh say playing 'Ted Hsieh Says' that shows this silliness on the students faces?

► Dr. Clossman had us all wondering if he would ever get around to playing the piano at the Spring Talent Show. When he finally did he surprised us and really tickled the ol' ivories.

► Just about any topic of conversation can come up at the 'ol'boys' lunch table.

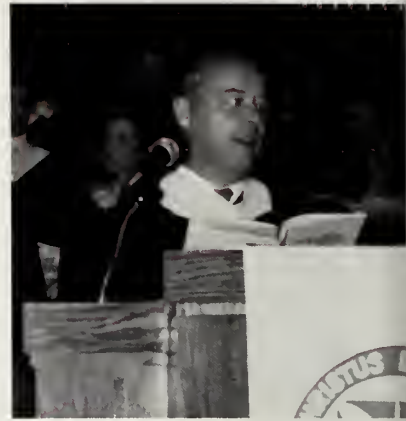

◀ Tory Gum notices that the scoreboard somehow suddenly displays a lopsided score.

► Dr. Ed explains another hymn and tells us to, "Sing with joy! Yes? You try.", in chapel.

▲ Dr. Betty Juergensmeyer feels at home in the lab.

► Matt Jewel wondered if Dr. Besancon would ever finish M.C.ing the coronation.

▲ Mr. Greg Lontkowski, part-time animation teacher, did a convincing Richard Simmons impersonation while explaining the finer points of claymation to Amber Moreland.

◀ Kelly Findley doesn't mind getting jerked around by Coach Burke all day.

▲ Coach Wallis and Dr. Myhrman take time out to catch a baseball game and discuss a little advanced chemistry.

▲ Faculty and staff alike are both intrigued by watching a close soccer match.

◀ "Hey look! There's James Dean!"

Administration and Staff

▲ President Weber spoke in chapel on Founder's Day.

◀ "The Best Christmas Pageant Ever" was made just that with the additional talent of a few staff members.

► The Administration building houses the vital divisions that sustain normal campus life.

◀ President Weber publicly thanks Mr. and Mrs. Lindner for their contributions to the construction of the new fitness center.

▲ Gerry Craddock has been Pres. Weber's diligent secretary for many years and will be sad to see him go.

◀ It's time for President Harm Weber to move on after 22 years. The 1990-91 school year marked his last full year with his final day as President being in December of '91.

► Dr. David Draewell and his secretary Loretta Ecker make the college's business their business.

▲ Switchboard operator Laura Hoffman is a previous "Lantern" editor.

► The Enrollment Services staff has been known to go to any length for a unique yearbook shot.

◀ Susan Vitel tries in vain to give Jennifer Skorik another helping of financial aid.

▲ Andrea Danielson works in the Ad. building as Dr. Harper's secretary.

◀ Did you ever wonder what the 'E' stands for? Dr. Ezekial Harold Harper looks up from his work as Academic Dean for the yearbook's camera.

► Suzan Sollie of Computer Services was more than glad to help the "Lantern" staff in their times of crisis.

▼ Many of the staff really earn their pay during registration when they have to process every student's paperwork.

▲ You can count on these people because they count all day for you. You guessed it...the ever accountable Accounting Office.

◀ Our very own 'nurse nightengales' keep the Health Center in good shape.

► The Health Center's staff is sure to scrutinize every student's health records.

▲ With computer automation the Registrar is able to be much more efficient.

► Sandi Blaisdell gives the Registrar a hand during registration. Art Steuber is pleased that he got all his classes while Sandi is glad she's in Fine Art's appreciation.

▲ The Registrar Office does its best to keep us all on schedule.

◀ The Development Office hired several new faces this year, some of which are pictured, some of which aren't.

► Karin Anderson lives for filling balloons with helium when working at the bookstore.

▼ The Library Staff formed a grown-up version of the pyramid pose.

◀ Ruth Hill is surprised when she discovers her supplier accidentally shipped her an invoice for 100 cartons of cigarettes.

◀ There's plenty of school spirit displayed in the college bookstore...for sale, of course.

▲ The three ladies in the picture, Kathy Gribbin (Student Activities), LeAnn Atkinson (Career Center), and Nancy Vandenburg (secretary), don't seem to mind being surrounded by the K.G.B.

► The Cafeteria Crew did the best they could in preparing lower commons food.

◀ Tommy Johnson serves up a mean dish. . .whatever it is.

▲ Chef Jeff enjoys flipping burgers for the cafeteria's cookout.

◀ One of Food Service's 'theme dinners' this fall was an outdoor picnic.

► Tim Young is an old pro when it comes to mowing the soccer field.

▲ These guys are no keystone cops when it comes to the security of our campus. The Judson Security Force even looks swell in their new uniforms.

► Plant Operations was thrilled to receive the old gym as their new center of operations for the fall of 1991.

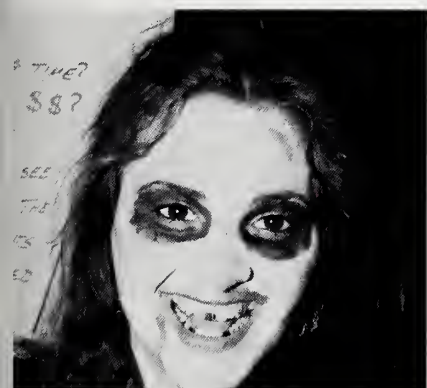

▲ "I think I'll trim a little bit here and a little bit there and. . . (CRAAASH) . . .uh oh."

◀ Paul Chesterson doesn't let anything get in his way on his mission of mowing. Maybe you should mow around the bushes, Paul.

Underclassmen

▲ Kim and Kris demonstrate proper tie-dye technique, and how not to turn your hands a different color.

◄ We're talking first class underclassmen here, baby.

Juniors can probably be noted for being caught between their love for Judson and college life . . . and the desire to "get the heck out". But, many find that their junior year proves to be one of the best.

The Sophomore Class

Once Judsonites get over the initial shock of being freshmen, they are already sophmores- doesn't time fly! Diana Droscha and Mary Dorr agree that sophomore year is "a time when most of your inhibitions are lost and you can take advantage of all Judson has to offer". In addition to studying more, sophmores find themselves more involved, be it in school, in ministries around the area, or in a local business.

► Karin Anderson shows Jim Harvey and Carrie Runyan how to do the 'butterchurn' at a Servant concert.

▲ Mary Olmsted looks like a birthday party that got a little carried away.

▲ There's nothing like a few good friends to share a study break with.

▼ If anyone tries to light Lynn Hughes fire she'll be ready for him.

▲ Now, which one of these people are on a diet?

◀ "I'll take this one...and this one...and..."

► Trick or treat? Denise Wilmer, Amy Parker, and Kathy Moore knew where to find the latter.

▼ Bill Hayes was able to work off this gut by the time basketball season rolled around.

▲ Kim Niedermeyer and Kristy Wenberg go for a spin at Great America.

► "Mom, I'd like you to meet my fiance and her half-sister."
"Half sister? What's the other half?"

◀ Tricia Perry gets a lift from the long, tall Texan, Mike Augsburg.

▲ John Delozier gets a 'budget cut' during an open dorm.

Athletics

▲ Todd Gould gives the tennis team his best shot.

◀ Every athletic team and every intramural sport team (intramural basketball shown) benefited from use of the new fitness center.

▲ Christy Hallbeck gets the ball beyond a wall of defenders.

The Robert D. Lindner Fitness Center

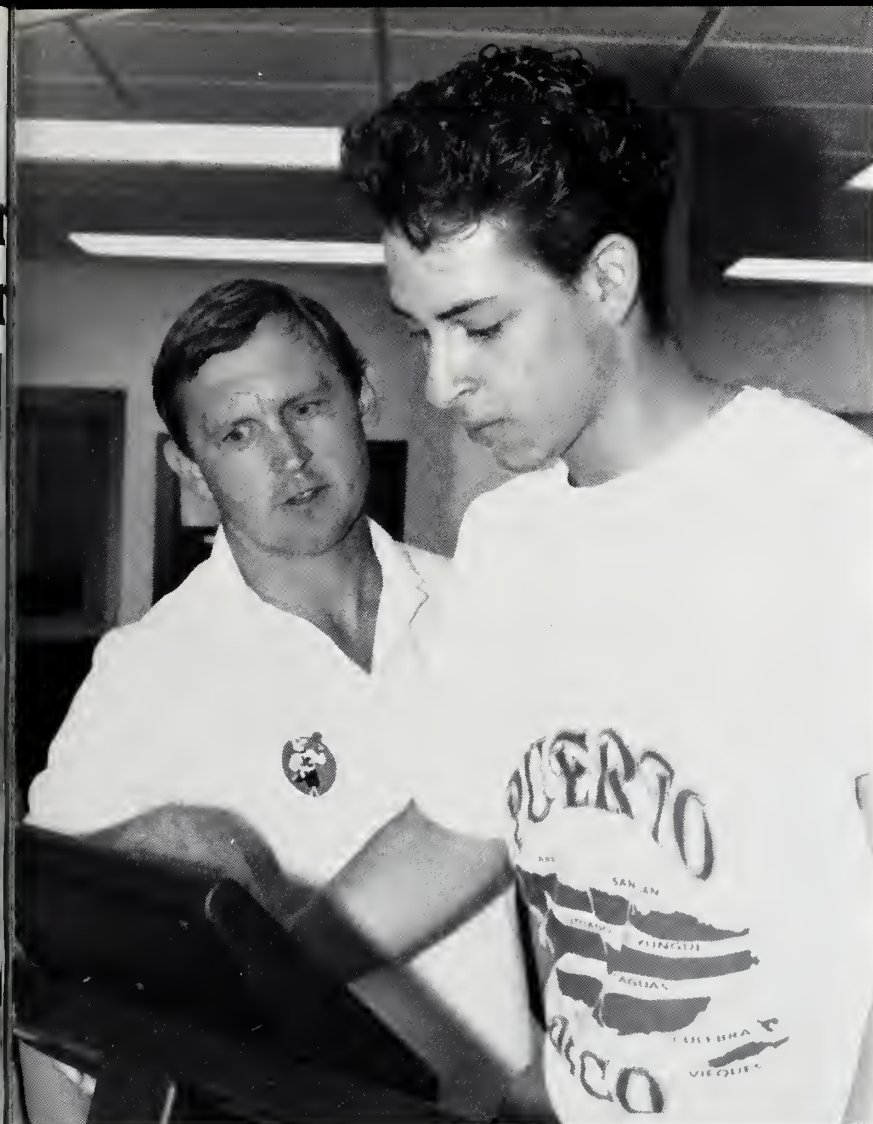

▲ Kathy Gribbin manages to give Ron Sweet 'a little attitude' even while working-out.

▲ 'P.S.' tells the gym janitors that they missed a spot.

◀ Coach Wallis appears puzzled at first when explaining the new stair climbing machines to Donny Cardona.

◀ The newest building on campus will be the center of athletic activity for years to come.

▲ Even the faculty and staff take full advantage of what the fitness center has to offer.

Volleyball

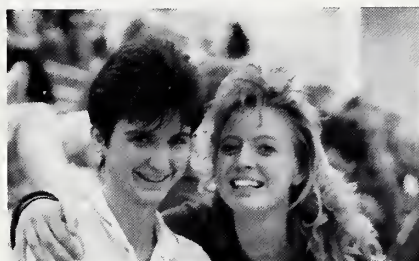

▲ The 1990-91 Judson College Volleyball Team was coached by Pam Kranich (right).

► The team showed improvement this year by playing hard.

◀ This new spike maneuver looks more like something out of Saturday Night Fever but, hey, it works.

◀ Assistant coach Gail Wilson and Mindi Hodge became good friends during the season.

▼ Debbie Hallbeck winds up for a mean serve.

Soccer

► The 1990-91 Judson College Soccer Team was coached by Steve Burke (center).

▼ Dale Gregory starts his film career early by capturing the action for the team.

◀ 'The King of the Field' commandingly dribbles his way through traffic.

Women's Basketball

▲ Mary Hawkinson gets a freethrow.

► Jodi Jones launches the ball for two.

▼ Mary is 'pumped up' for the game as she 'airs out' the ball.

◀ Shooting Star doesn't let anyone get in her face when taking a shot.

▲ "Who wants the ball?" "I do!" "I do!"

Men's Basketball

▲ Dave Gutierrez has the touch when going for a lay-up.

► Doug Lee ignores the threat for "a punch in the mouth" and drives right on by.

◀ Fred Versluys reaches out to get a point.

► Intramural sports were as big of a hit as 'Chevy' Simmons volleyball spike.

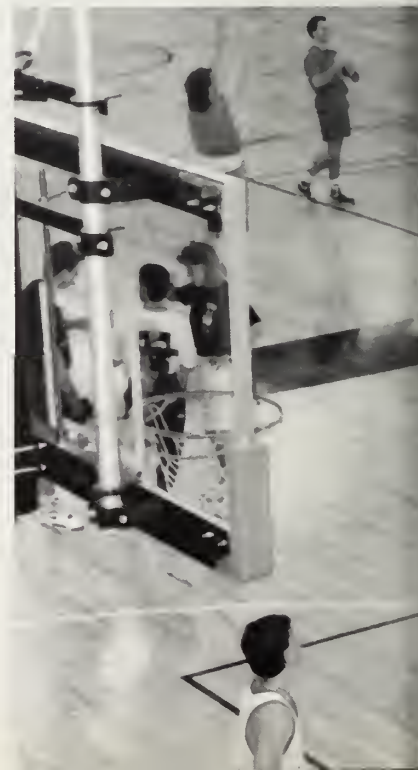

► Even the Alumni got involved in a little intramural basketball and fared quite well.

▲ The 'proud to be loud' Pep Club kept us in the school spirit at home and away games.

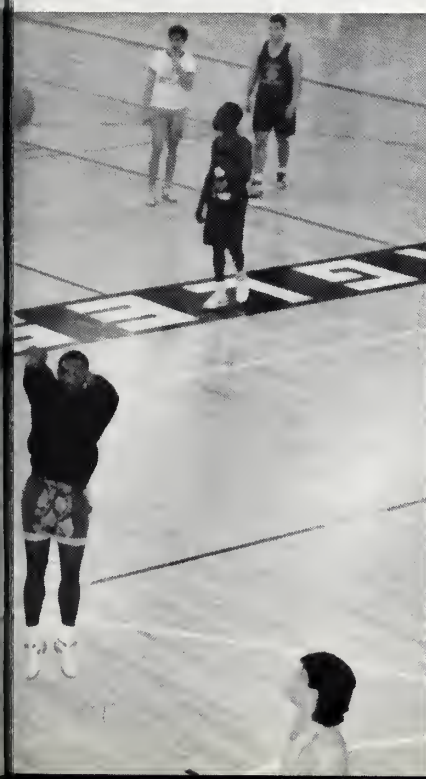

▲ For the brief time Volkman pond froze over it made an excellent rink for our intramural hockey teams.

▼ The 1990-91 Judson College Cheerleaders never let the excitement of competition die at a Men's Basketball game.

◀ Nfor Tandap tries his hands at basketball rather than his feet at soccer for a change.

▲ You couldn't wish for a better line-up of smiling faces than our very own cheerleaders.

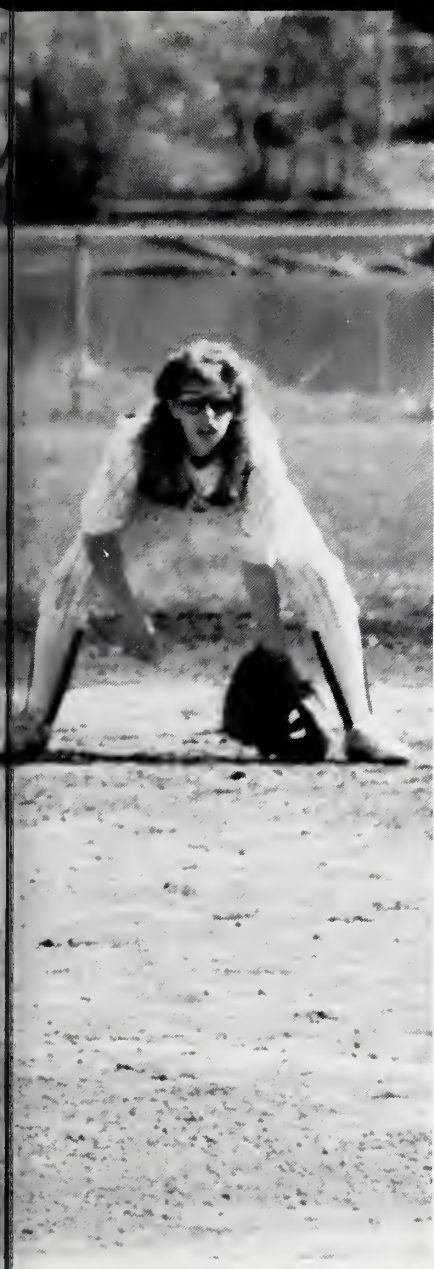

► Senior Angie Palmer lets one fly at a home softball game.

▲ "Heads up, coach!"

Mens Baseball and Women's Softball

▲ Senior Pat Gilliam gambles whether or not he should steal to second.

◀ The 1991 Judson College Men's Baseball team was coached by Ed Grider (back, center).

Tennis

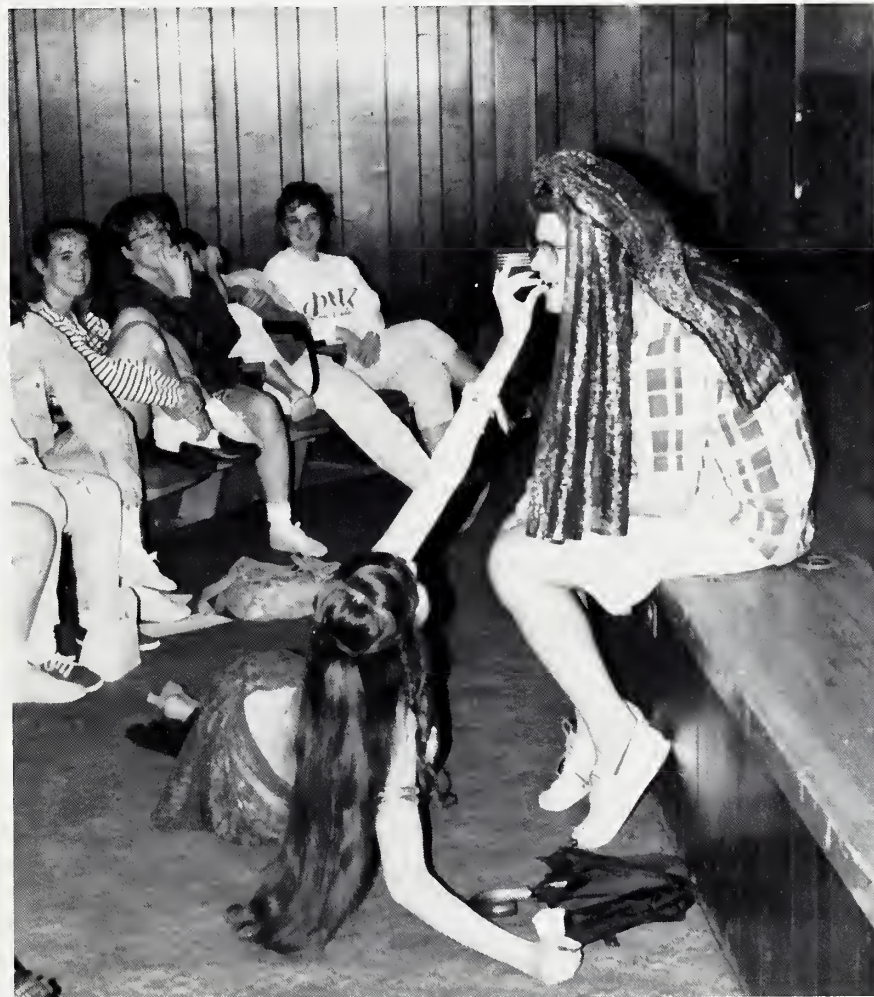

▲ The 1991 Judson College Tennis Team was coached by Steve Cassells (rear, left).

▲ Cory Bartel comes to the net in hopes of winning the point.

Judson's Favorites

▲ This spring showed what one of the student's favorite uses for toilet paper was.

▲ One of Dale Gregory's favorite Judson experiences had to be eating grapes in the Fine Art Recital Hall.

◀ Dale Cruise and Pat Gilliam try to think of their favorite place to hang out.

Favorite Soft Drink

1. Mountain Dew
2. Dr. Pepper
3. Coke
4. Pepsi
5. Diet Coke

► If it was up to just Kristy Engel and Chris Heinig, Dr. Pepper would have won hands down.

Favorite Brand o' Pizza

1. Pizza Hut
2. Giordano's
3. Little Ceasar's
4. Gino's
5. Tombstone

◄ It doesn't matter what kind of pizza you put in front of Chris Brown and Mark Funkhouser. ANY kind of pizza is their fav.

Favorite Fast Food

1. Taco Bell
2. Wendy's
3. Subway
4. McDonald's
5. White Castle

"Now, are you sure this is the mild sauce, Deb?" Jack Horn likes to go to Taco Bell because he can usually get filled up for around $10.

Favorite Sports Team

1. Bulls
2. Cubs
3. Bears
4. 49ers
5. Blackhawks

◀ Ask Mark 'Air' Poetz who his favorite basketball team is and he'll probably say, "The '91 NBA champs, the Chicago Bulls, baby!"

Favorite Dorm

1. Wilson
2. Volkman
3. Ohio
4. Barton
5. (Faculty Apts.?)

◀ Joe Flowers demonstrates why Wilson Hall keeps topping the Favorite Dorm category. Because no where on campus and no place on earth will you ever experience anything like Club Joe.

Favorite Hang Out Spot

1. FA Lounge
2. Wilson Lounge
3. Commons
4. Fitness Center
5. Room #209

► Why are these FA majors smiling? Their beloved lounge, that regularly showcases FA talent, is the new #1 hang out spot.

Favorite Class

1. Old Testament
2. Acting
3. Evangelism
4. Marriage & Family
5. FA Apprec.

◀ Rob McManus, Acting's student aide, tries to convince Ken Dickson that Acting should have been #1. Ken begs to differ.

Favorite Required Class

1. Old Testament
2. World Civ.
3. FA Apprec.
4. Faith & Life
5. Stretch

► Art Freeman congratulates Dr. Bob on his long string of wins in the Favorite Class (required and not) category.

Favorite Music Group

1. Michael W. Smith
2. Wilson Phillips
3. Amy Grant
4. Petra
5. Delvis

► We were in awe when our favorite musical artist, Michael W. Smith, did an exclusive 'unplugged' concert in chapel last year.

Favorite Radio Station

1. WYLL
2. WXRT
3. WJUD
4. WABT
5. U.S. 99

◄ This is your brain. This is your brain after listening to U.S. 99. Any questions?

Favorite Fad Phraze

1. "NOT"
2. "What the pick?"
3. "Helloooo"
4. "Dang"
5. "You're engaged, too?"

► Freshmen: "Hellooooo! You engaged, too?" Big Shooter: "What the pick? NOT!" Freshmen: "Dang!" (commence smooching)

Favorite Jud. Experience

1. CA Choir Tour
2. Chapels
3. Judson food (?)
4. The Point
5. Variety Shows

◄ "Our favorite Judson experience? We wish they all could be California Tours!"

Family Photos

▲ ▲ A Strong friendship exists between sisters Lisa Kay and Denise.

▲ Mirlam and Mark Mather — "I'm sure, niccce tame picture."

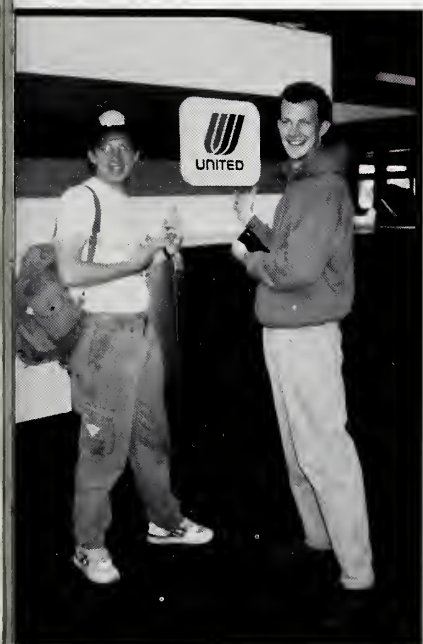

► If you think Sherry and Jennifer look Sharp now, look how they were then.

◀ Teresa and Michelle Greiner do double duty in the campus bookstore.

▼ Chrisann Christensen (standing) is the daughter of Joyce Price. They both hold staff positions on campus.

◀ The Sy Guys, Greg and Dave, share a united brotherhood.

More Family Photos

► "Your mother dresses you funny!" exclaims Julianne. Well, you've both come along way, babies, as seen below (▼).

▼ The better dressed siblings; Julianne and Art Steuber.

▲ The musical Miller sisters, Jane and Julie, practice piano and play handbells.

► Michele and Melinda Tenney are seen here on a lazy fall evening.

▼ The Heinigs (tied with the Horns) hold the record for the most siblings attending Judson College at any one time. (Mom is holding the camera)

▲ Debbie and Christy Hallbeck played side by side on the volleyball team.

◀ The Streit twins are the dynamic duo on the women's basketball team.

Incriminating Photographs

► "Ah...there's nothing I like better than the smell of Charmin in the morning."

▼ Dan Miles wishes he had on more than just his shirt and smile.

▲ These guys are either spear fishing or looking for Jim Aalfs who may be still hiding from security.

◀ After waiting two long years, this unmentionable photo of unmentionables hanging from the chapel, will finally reach print.

▼ ...and on that same note here's a extra-large gift for Erik Young.

▲ Any more flagrant P.D.A. like this will certainly lead to premarital dancing.

◀ Here he is ladies, in all his glory, the Itallion Stallion himself, luscious Lou DiGrazia.

Advertisements

▲ Barbie Crow buys her soft drinks at Taco Bell for the free refills.

◀ Al's Cafe, which is partly owned by a Judson alumnus, is a frequent stop for Judsonites of all types.

▲ With a haul like this, Miriam Mather, Karin Anderson, and Julie Schilling are sure to keep T.C.B.Y. in business.

► An editor's work is never done. Whenever I had a break though I enjoyed lighting up...with a flash and camera. Seeing that I took more pictures in the past 3 years than a normal person would take in a lifetime, it's a plus that I enjoyed being Judson's 'camera man'.

▼ 2 years as an R.A. will drive you nuts. In my case it was a prerequisite due to all my other 'irons in the fire'.

▲ Some of my best memories of Judson came from friends and times like these. Whether it was going to see the Allies in a VW Bug or going to foreign lands, my place in time at Judson was life changing.

► As I sat on my throne and surveyed my wondrous alma mater, I went back to a night when Jim A., Jack H., and I went for a little stroll...

Thanks to everyone who was involved in the making of this esteemed, annual publication of historia. I thank you, Judson thanks you, America thanks you. What about a dedication? Well, I'm dedicating this book to you the people (that's anyone who has endured the Judson experience). You deserve it: you paid for it, you're in it, you made it, you unknowingly financed my business dinners and limos...oops...uh, nevermind. P.S. Special thanks to: my ever strong Savior, my wonderful family, and all my weird friends. -Bill

▲ There's no way anyone can call me an animal hater. I love all animals. . .its just that I love some animals better dead.

◀ My infatuation with fast cars started when I was a boy. As I grew older I discovered girls. . .that liked fast cars, too.
